

Introduction

Good morning everyone! My name is Abisha Shrestha, and I come from Kathmandu. I am a calm, honest, and responsible person who enjoys meeting new people and learning from different experiences. I believe that hard work and consistency are the keys to success. In my free time, I like listening to music, watching movies, reading books, and spending time with my family.

At present, I am studying for a Bachelor's degree in Information Technology (BIT). These days, I am focused on improving my technical skills by learning programming languages, web development, and working on college assignments and projects. Besides academics, I also enjoy participating in group activities and learning new skills that will help me in my future career. My dream is to become a successful software developer and contribute to the IT industry.

One interesting secret about me is that I am an overthinker. Even though I appear relaxed and cheerful, I often spend a lot of time thinking about small things and planning everything carefully. This habit sometimes makes me nervous, but it also helps me stay organized and prepared. I am working on becoming more confident and enjoying each moment without worrying too much.
